"Phillips Inn" To Be "Andover Inn"

"Phillips Inn" became "Andover Inn" on Monday when the management of the well-known hostelry on Chapel avenue was taken over by the Treadway hotel interests, following the retirement of John Stewart after a long period of service. The Trustees of the Academy still hold the title to the property, but the operation of the Inn has been turned over to the Treadway group of hotels.

The new manager, George M. Brakey, is planning to change more than the name. The fundamental change will be in the atmosphere of the Inn which he desires to make less formal, more home-like. Some renovating and refurbishing will be done. There will also be a change in rates for both meals and rooms, the minimum in both cases to be less than heretofore.

Mr. Brakey has been six years with the Treadway group, and more recently has been at the White Hart Inn at Salisbury, Conn. Assisting in the changes at present is Mr. Jones, manager of the Treadway-operated Lord Jeffery Inn at Amherst. Mrs. Brakey is to be hostess.

STATE HOTEL MEN TO MEET AT INN

The Massachusetts Hotel association will meet at the Andover Inn on January 15th. Preceding the meeting there will be a conference of Treadway Inn managers.

BASKETBALL TOMORROW

The Punchard Jayvees will meet the Wilmington High school quintet at 3 tomorrow.

Finis Written To Bank Night Controversy

District Attorney Hugh A. Cregg stated this morning that he "has no further interest" in the Andover Playhouse Bank Night controversy "unless it is shown to him that there is a violation of the law." He said that from what he was able to learn, there is no violation and therefore he would not stop Bank Night.

Last night Paul A. L'Antigua, who submitted the complaint to the District Attorney, announced that he too, after hearing manager Samuel Resnik's side of the story, was convinced that the practice is within the law. The Supreme Court handed down a decision last week which in effect stated that bank night could not be ruled a lottery per se, the methods of operation being the important factor.

The District Attorney had detective Richard Griffin make an investigation of the L'Antigua charges, and the preliminary report revealed no law violation. He said that the worst-sounding charges fell down under examination. Interested in the complaint that dead men's names were called, he learned that this had been done in one instance, but it was "not deliberate, but unfortunate," and therefore not a law violation.

Adult Courses To Start Monday

The Andover Evening Study Groups for adults will open next Monday night, with registration still possible in a number of courses. Cards are being mailed out to all those who have registered to date and will reach them in time for the courses.

Courses closed to date are: Studio Art, except for rapid figure sketching; Photography 1 and 2; Effective Speaking 1; and Recreation for Women. Effective Speaking 2 is similar to Effective Speaking 1 and may be still entered.

Intentions, Deaths Jumped In 1939

Both marriage intentions and deaths took a decided jump in Andover the past year. Marriage intentions, which totalled 97 a year ago, reached the figure of 128 this year.

Death, however, took a heavier toll by 25. In 1938 there were 137 deaths, with 162 being reported as the total for 1939.

Figures are not yet available on births and marriages since more certificates are expected.

West Church Has Annual Meeting

Nearly 100 members and friends of the West church gathered in the vestry last evening for the annual supper and reports of the church officers. A turkey supper was served at 7:00 with Mrs. John Noyes chairman. Following the supper community singing was enjoyed, led by Rev. Mr. Savage.

The business meeting opened by a prayer by the pastor. Reports were read by clerk Herbert Carter and treasurer Sherman Boutwell, both of whom were re-elected to serve for 1940. Harry Wright was appointed auditor, and the finance committee will be Sherman Boutwell, chairman; Fred Doyle and Herbert Lewis. Herbert Carter was elected Deacon to serve for five years.

The Sunday School superintendent will be Arthur R. Lewis and his assistant Mr. Carter.

Reports were given on Woman's Union work by Mrs. Arthur Lewis, on Junior Woman's Union work by Mrs. Edwin Strain, and on Young People's Groups by Janet Guild.

Rev. Newman Matthews read resolutions on the death of all members of the church during 1939.

Snow-Storm Cost "Only In Hundreds"

Surette Studio

Andover's week-end snowstorm brought joy to the youngsters who have been looking forward to coasting, skiing and snowman-making, and it did not bring its customary headache to the taxpayers. No definite figure on the cost of snow removal is available as yet, but public works officials were able to say: "It will be in the hundreds, not the thousands this time." No trucks were hired, the town trucks doing all the street plowing, while a few horse plows were hired for some of the streets.

Xmas Seal Group Asks Returns

The Andover Christmas Seal Committee requests that returns for the Christmas Seals which were mailed on Thanksgiving be made as soon as possible to Mrs. Frank L. Brigham, 9 Punchard Avenue, Chairman of the Committee. The purchase of Christmas Seals makes possible the fight against tuberculosis. Continued support is necessary if this preventable disease, which kills so many of our youth and young adults, is to be eliminated. If the seals cannot be purchased, the committee will appreciate their return in the self-addressed stamped envelope which was sent with them.

Election's Coming

Going to run for office? Oh, you don't want to. Takes too much time? You don't get anything for it except hard knocks?

You're right. If you're going to run, you'd better make up your mind now that you should be willing to give as much time as possible to the office if elected. And if you're thin-skinned, you'd better not run. But if you have a real desire to see town government run efficiently, it might be well for you to develop a thicker skin. For if everybody capable of holding town office the way it should be held felt that he shouldn't demean himself by running for that office, it would leave a rather sorry lot to whom we would be entrusting the management of a very important business.

Look through the list of town officers whose terms expire this March. If there are some on that list who don't care to run again, do everything you can to find a good candidate for that position. If there are some on the list who shouldn't run again, find somebody who can beat the undesirables. And how about running yourself?

Let's make the town ballot something which will present a list of desirable names to the voters, not something from which they'd have to choose the least of several evils.

GARDEN CLUB HEARS PROFESSOR DAVIS

"Englishmen are the world's finest gardeners," said Prof. A. M. Davis speaking on "Why an Englishman Loves His Garden" before a small but interested group of Andover Garden Club members at the November clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon. The informal talk and lovely colored slides were the result of a trip which Mr. Davis made last summer to England where the cool, moist climate and the industry of generations of flower-lovers have created many interesting and famous gardens where emphasis is placed on quality of bloom and the age of trees and ornamental accessories.

A few pictures of New England stone walls and early American architecture illustrated the fact there is much beauty in homes and their settings on this side of the water. Mr. Davis urged his hearers to do some creative planting so that this beauty may be increased as the years go by.

At the close of the lecture afternoon coffee was served under the direction of Mrs. Jerome W. Cross.

Northern heights sure attracted localites to North Conway and nearby towns over the week-end, perhaps because one of the principles of good skiing is good timing...My instructor says, "Too much good timing makes no-good timing"...But then he also says that you must have "adequate equipment, reasonable analytical ability, plente opportunity to practice and good instruction," and he gives me a look that means, "Well, you have the good instruction, anyway"...

Just to make me feel at home on skis, he took me ski laufing for a few hours, and take it from me, he who langlaufs is not necessarily the one who laughs long...

While getting a slant on how the other half ski at Crawford Notch, it struck me that most skiers are a mercenary crew...everyone looking out for his own end...I saw Mr. and Mrs. Lester Utley and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Taplin picking a herringbone up the slope and (prospective doctor) Tom Walker showing a complete disregard for Anatomy in his study of the slalom course...Ed Goodwin, John Lowe and Margaret Buchan had made some beautiful Christy tracks in the snow which I never should have tried to follow...somebody had put a base wax on my skis and they crossed me up...Maybe that's a sign of weakness in my analytical ability but it's sure having drastic effects on my inadequate equipment...

One couple who seemed to be floating on air proved to be the newly-engaged Helen Foster and Jimmy Scobie...Harold and Arlene Rutter, Bill Mahoney, Ben and Virginia Batcheller, Doris Anderson and Alden Taylor, Jr., were also making merry over this sport that is causing me so many aches...in fact after the first few hours, the only part of me that wasn't kinky was my hair...

Phillip Clark, formerly of Andover and now of Concord, Eleanor Johnson, Frances McTernan, Robert Holland, Douglas Crockett, Jane Ritchie, Lucille Levine, Mildred Buck, Kellogg Boynton, Betty Buchan, Josephine Daly, Elmer and Gladys Grover, and Margaret Doherty were also among those skiing in the Leap Year...and having a very merry time doing it...I hear Mr. and Mrs. John MacKenzie and Mrs. Everett H. Mercereau spent the week-end at Milton, N. H., where they found the snow a foot deep...It was only a matter of inches here although Crawford Notch had a foot... (Joe Wright said the skiing was fine in his back yard).

We had a couple of inches more Tuesday and by next week-end there will probably be enough powder to please even the professionals...I like it pretty soft, myself...

Turkish Benefit Bridge And Tea To Be Held

"May your shadow never grow less." This should be the mutual greeting of those attending the Turkish Benefit to be held on Friday, January 12, at the November clubhouse. Two o'clock will find players of Contract, Auction Bridge or Chinese Checkers, at as many small tables as can comfortably be housed. Refreshments a la Turca and a la franca will be served at half-past four. It is hoped that the Turkish consul or his deputy will say a few words over the coffee cups; also that a Turkish post-graduate student from Wellesley college may be present. Every year a few picked Turkish students attend Wellesley, later becoming leaders in their native land. The same is true of Harvard and M. I. T.

Were it not for the European War, our attention would now be riveted on the plight of Turkey. The sufferings of millions the world over, have somewhat dulled us to catastrophe. But daily, hourly, in Anatolia, there is a mounting toll of victims taken by earthquake, fire and flood. The promoter of this Andover Benefit, Mrs. Myron E. Gutterson, was born in the vilayet of Smyrna and has visited Brousa, cities in the devastated area. Constantinople, her girlhood home, has frequently felt earthquake shocks. At this particular moment, Arctic temperatures have added to the general horror.

Over against this, we in Andover can set the warm response to this appeal for help. Up to the moment of writing, thirty-one tables have been sold for the benefit, and a number of money contributions made. A few more tables are for sale, and tea reservations are available.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Dane of Cuba street recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Orson S. Hathaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danworth Hathaway of Milton. Miss Dane attended the local schools and Mr. Hathaway attended North Yarmouth academy and Union college in Schenectady, N. Y.

The engagement of Miss Ruth L. Prescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Prescott of Pond street, Georgetown, has been announced to Bradford E. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Webb of South Main street.

Miss Prescott is a senior this year at Salem State Teachers' college and Mr. Webb, a graduate of Stockbridge Agricultural school, is now employed as a foreman at the Greycroft farm, Wenham.

Mrs. Ethel Peterson of Newburyport has announced the engagement of their daughter, Freda, of Kensington street, to Rene Lacharite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Euclide Lacharite of Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Greenhow of 12 Main street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gladys, to Morrill Jacobs, son of Mrs. Andrew Jacobs of 5 Prospect square, Gloucester.

Among those taking tables are:

Mrs. Foster C. Barnard, Mrs. Albert H. Chamberlain, Miss Fannie Davis, The Misses Penniman, Mrs. Frederick M. Boyce, Mrs. Byron Hall, Mrs. Kenneth L. Sherman, Mrs. Emma Gould Carter, Miss Mary Byers Smith, Mrs. Lester E. Lynde, Mrs. William W. Kurth, Mrs. A. C. Dame, Mrs. Joseph H. Blunt, Mrs. Mervin E. Stevens, Mrs. John S. Barss, Mrs. Roscoe E. Dake, Mrs. Scott H. Paradise, Mrs. James H. Eaton, Mrs. F. Tyler Carlton, Mrs. Ralph Herick, Miss Elise Eades, Miss Helen Chickering, Mrs. Horace M. Poynter, Mrs. Mitchell Johnson, Miss Harriet Carter, Mrs. Jerome Cross, Mrs. J. Milton Day, Miss C. Madeleine Hewes, Mrs. Irving Sargent, Mrs. Frank L. Brigham, Mrs. Carl F. Pfatteicher.

Assisting Mrs. Gutterson are Mrs. John Oram Sheppard (Tel. 1078-W) and Mrs. Frederick R. Hulme (Tel. 975). Those reserving tables will please call up Andover 184. At four-thirty a limited number may be accommodated for the tea-hour; make reservations with Mrs. Sheppard. Whenever so specified, tables will be provided for patrons; it would, however, be a great help if some patrons brought their own tables to the clubhouse, preferably between 10 and 12 the morning of January 12. They could thus secure a desirable location and avoid confusion later on. Bring also table covers, cards, pencils and tallies. To get up a large benefit in less than two weeks of time with the complication of the holidays, has been a big undertaking. Any lift is appreciated. Your leniency is solicited. "Safa geldiniz!" meaning "Welcome!"

The engagement of Miss Annetta M. Anderson to Richard Wrigley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wrigley of 33 High street, has recently been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gouck.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Gordon, 13 Washington avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean C. Gordon, to Russell E. Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Freeman of 322 High street, Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wheeler of 105 Elm street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Genevieve Wheeler, to Gerard Pelletier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pelletier of 7 Elm street, Methuen.

Wedding

Newton-McDonagh

Miss Margaret Lillian McDonagh of Lowell, Mass., and Mr. Ralph R. Newton of River road, West Andover, were married on last Saturday at the rectory of St. Patrick's church in Lowell. Miss Rita McDonagh, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and Philip Golding of Chelmsford was the best man.

After February 1, they will be at home to friends at their new home on River road.

Cooling Off

We made a big mistake last week in not making a resolution for John Grecoe concerning the false alarm burglar alarm in his jewelry store which we hear went off again Tuesday night...We don't like to be pessimistic, but we heard the story of the shepherd boy who hollered "Wolf" and after all, this is Leap Year and EVERYONE can't afford a diamond...

John H. Pike, better known as Crisco in his Punchard days, has recently returned from South America where he is a salesman for the B. B. Chemical Company.... He's living in Arlington now, but he still spends a lot of time in Andover...at functions such as the B. C. formal in the Country Club last week...and from all reports, we'd better cancel the name of Crisco... Among the guests at the New Year's party at Mr. and Mrs. Everett Mercereau's was one Lady Margaret Sluga, wearing a rather scanty costume and quite informal...but Lady Margaret being a thoroughbred and quite able to carry off any situation wasn't a bit embarrassed...She comes from a long line of Thoroughbreds and, in fact, is as pretty a Doberman Pinscher as you'd ever want to see...at least John MacKenzie thinks so and he ought to know...it's his dog...

The Daily Sentinel, a weekly sheet published in Brechin Terrace and issued on Saturday mornings, did not appear last week...The editor and his staff were nowhere to be found and even the delivery boys were missing...for a little while the finger of suspicion pointed at another weekly paper published in Andover...Could it be that this latter paper was using gangster methods to wipe out competition...Sentinel subscribers allowed the thought to be harbored in their minds and the accused paper decided it better see a lawyer right away...Sam Resnik was called to sleuth down the real kidnappers...His Sherlock deductions were speedily made...First he wanted to know the ages of the Sentinel editor and his staff... (the aforementioned accused thought that was pretty silly) and then the question was raised, "How long had they been missing?"...when Mr. Resnik heard that they had just disappeared Saturday morning he took the accused and accusers directly down to the Andover Playhouse and there sat the Sentinel editor and staff getting the low down on "The Shadow"...

For a long time after, the newspaper rivaled by the Sentinel was so upset about the whole situation that it was going around seeing everything topsy turvy and all mixed up...New Year's morning it even thought the Post Office flag was hanging upside down...It was? Boy, is that a relief...

—Chief Engineer Hardy now wears the gold badge which he won at the recent A. O. U. W. fair.

—The family of Abbott Irving has returned from an extended visit in Canada.

—A pleasant affair at the Shawsheen club's rooms Tuesday evening was the presentation to the janitor, George O. Hill, by his numerous friends in Andover of a handsome open-faced gold watch with chain. Moses Foster, Esq., president of the club, presented the gift, his remarks being especially bright and well chosen. Mr. Hill's usual modesty entirely overcame him, and he could only respond with thanks for this "timely" remembrance of the esteem in which he is held.

—At the meeting of the Farmers' Institute under the management of the Middlesex North Agricultural society at Lowell Friday afternoon, one of the principal speakers on the topic for discussion, "Farm Management" was Selectman S. H. Boutwell of West Parish.

Geoffrey Morgan Speaks At School Assembly

At a combined assembly of the senior and junior high schools yesterday in Memorial auditorium, Geoffrey F. Morgan of California spoke to the group. Having had experience as high school teacher, principal, superintendent and college professor, Mr. Morgan has always been interested in education. For the past nineteen years he has devoted himself to writing and speaking and has been a member of the State Legislature in California for the past four. His address, stimulating the students to pursue education for its own sake, was heartily welcomed by his large audience.
